The Shop Where Christmas Searching Ends

1186—The reproduction of Rodin's famous "Thinker" makes a pair of handsome book-ends, 7 inches high and in a metallized brown finish. The pair, $8.

1110—Mahogany candlesticks done in the Colonial manner. Ten inches high; fitted with quaint old-fashioned crystal prisms. The pair, $10.

OVINGTON'S is the first place visited by an ever increasing number of Christmas shoppers. But what is even more significant, Ovington's is often the last place visited. For, after shopping at Ovington's, it is hardly necessary to go elsewhere. Here is where the exact objects of a Christmas quest are most likely to be found.

And if you are not looking for any particular gift, you'll find many suggestions for Christmas gifts—gifts as distinctive in charm as they are reasonable in cost.

Ovington's Book of Christmas gifts, with a cover done in the Russian manner, will be sent if you request it.
